Comments by LHRC Affiliates or Members:

- ❖ Lutheran Family Services – had a surprise visit from Chris Cart with no citations. The Heart Gallery is opening in Creekside featuring children in foster care waiting to be adopted. New staff has been hired and the program is expanding.
- ❖ A Place to Call Home – had a visit from Chris Cart and unless something comes up by 12/6, will have 3 years without any citations.
- ❖ Lord Fairfax House – had a visit from Chris Cart
- ❖ Timber Ridge – had an undefeated football season with only 2 boys returning from last year. As part of either court orders or school program, boys do

- community services to the Veteran Administration. The veterans came to Timber Ridge this year.
- ❖ Shen – Paco – has submitted their policies and procedures for the group home in Luray. Mr. Collins informed them that they will need to be placed on an upcoming agenda as part of licensure for the new group home.
 - ❖ Good Life Corporation – a visit from Chris Cart was also made here. The new group home has opened and the intensity of the opposition has died down with the mentioning of the Fair Housing Act in a letter from the attorney. Some neighbors did visit to welcome them to the neighborhood.
 - ❖ Grafton – the Berryville campus has opened a green house and has a volleyball team which has won the 1st game of the tournament. On 12/1, 1 of the seclusion room doors will be removed.
 - ❖ Children's Services of VA – received a visit from Chris Cart and their license has been renewed.

Advocate Update:

Mr. Seymour reported that there had been a flood at Commonwealth Center and all operations were moved to Building B at Western State Hospital. All admissions have resumed in the new location. The move is expected to last approximately 90 days. The temporary facilities allow for only 1 seclusion room. Telephone numbers are the same and Mr. Seymour will check the fax number to be used. At the meeting in September, there was discussion regarding programs in schools with increased in-home services. He feels that some agencies are operating under the assumption that they have a license to provide a service when in fact they do not.

Mr. Collins reported on the budget. There have been 3 positions eliminated from his office. The advocate at Western State Hospital will leave at the end of December. He and Mr. Seymour will have WSH added to their duties. Licensure lost 2 positions, and nine were eliminated when the central office closed the state pharmacy. This affects mental health clients who have been discharged from a state hospital. The CSBs were given 30 days' notice to find alternative medication delivery systems. Funding is being given to the CSBs but it will be based on last year's allotment. The state pharmacy was able to buy medications in large quantities which kept the cost down. CSB's do not currently have the same type of negotiating power. Some clients are being connected with the patient assistance program if they are eligible. The impact is immediate and will also affect future changes if a new patient comes into a CSBs catchment area or if an existing client's prescription changes.

UVA will close 1 of its 2 acute units. The change in having 36 beds to 16 beds will take effect in March or April. Having the psych beds available as close as Winchester is a blessing.

Program Reports:

Timber Ridge –
Wall Residences –
WMC Behavioral Health Unit – the request for changing the hours is been withdrawn
